

NEW SALES DIRECTOR TO OVERSEE EXPANDING SALES TEAM AT OCEAN SAFETY

Mark Hart has recently joined Ocean Safety as Sales Director. With over 20 years' experience in the marine leisure and commercial and military marine sectors, Mark is ideally placed to compliment the team with his vast knowledge of the industry.

Well known in the industry, Mark comes from a professional background with Zodiac International and Avon Inflatables. He has worked with and alongside many high profiled companies worldwide with their own market sector leadership, promoting product through international distributors, UK and European networks, at the same time selling direct to commercial and military organisations.

Mark is 46 and married with two young children and will be based from the Southampton Headquarters. Over the next few months, he will oversee the further expansion of the sales team, to meet the increasing level of enquiries for marine safety equipment worldwide.

SEAWORK 2010

Ocean Safety will be exhibiting at Seawork from June 15th - 17th on stand number 35, adjacent to the Main Registration Area.

End.
